

Decluttering

Motivating yourself or a loved one to make decisions about possessions can be difficult, especially when a home has become overwhelmingly muddled.

We're quite the experts at decluttering and understand the associated and often complex reasons why homes become chaotic.

Who We Help

View all

Individuals

People living alone who may or may not have physical or mental health challenges.

Family & Carers

Those whose relative or close friend requires help in making their home safer and more manageable.

Health & Social care

Partners needing a trusted decluttering service that understands a person's underlying needs.

Beneficiaries & Solicitors

For when a person sadly passes away, and their home needs to be decluttered.

Learn more here

Our Other Services

View all

Help With Hoarding

Most of us like to hold onto things that we feel attached to or that hold special memories, but for some people, attachment to possessions can become a real hindrance to everyday living.

End of Tenancy Cleaning

In most tenancy agreements, the tenant is responsible for the end of tenancy cleaning. However, sometimes in the rush of things or in the event of illness or sadly a death, this is not always possible

Ready to start?

Learn More Here

Helpful links

Our Process

Our Helpful Information Page

All Our Social Media Profiles

Lofty Heights

Brightspace, 160 Hadleigh Road, Ipswich
United Kingdom

You received this email because you signed up on our website.

Unsubscribe

